Child Safety and Injury Prevention Programs Heat Up

Chris Gible, LCSW, CARE Social Worker/ Outreach Coordinator measures preschool student Ami, age 4, during a Child Passenger Safety Seat program held at Rainbow Corner Preschool at CARE for Children.

CARE for Children's Child Safety and Injury Prevention program is going strong with a variety of events held over the summer and more initiatives planned for fall.

'Ride Safe' Summer Child Safety Fairs were held on June 11th in Port Allegany and Smethport. The safety fairs were highlighted with bicycle helmet fittings, a bike safety obstacle course, and safety information for children and families. The Port Allegany event, held on the town square, was sponsored by the Rotary Club of Port Allegany. Many Rotarians volunteered at the event and also cooked lunch for those in attendance. The Smethport event was held at Hamlin Memorial Library and funded in part by the Smethport Rotary Club. Twenty-two children were fitted for bicycle helmets.

In recognition of Child Passenger Safety Week- September 13th through the 19th, CARE held a car seat safety program for both preschool classes. Students were weighed and measured to determine which car seat would fit them best and each student colored a worksheet with the correct car seat to share with their parents.

In addition, a car seat safety check was held September 18th at the Ashley Booth Griffin CARE for Children Center. Corporal Lance Schimp, PA State Police Kane Barracks, and Dan Woods, Deputy, McKean County Sheriff's Office, both certified child passenger safety technicians, helped educate families about choosing the right car seat for their child and checked to ensure car seats were installed properly. Twelve car seats were checked at the event which was sponsored by Safe Kids Pennsylvania – McKean County Partner, The Pennsylvania State Police, and CARE for Children.

CARE is excited to launch a new safety initiative in October. Through generous funding from Seneca Resources Corporation, CARE was able to purchase carbon monoxide detectors for its Home Safety program. The detectors will be available at no cost for families who meet a set of guidelines which include: residing in McKean County, having at least one child reside in the home, demonstrated financial need, and participation in a short program survey 30-60 days after receiving the carbon monoxide detector.

CARE's ongoing Safety Item Referral Program, which works with in-home service providers, distributes various childproofing safety items to families in need. The McKean County Family Centers are an active partner in these efforts. In an effort to promote 'Safe Babies,' every baby born at the Bradford Regional Medical Center receives a bag of safety and injury prevention materials and a gift certificate for a childproofing kit.

CARE's Child Safety and Injury Prevention efforts, as the lead agency for Safe Kids Pennsylvania – McKean County Partner, are funded in part by the United Way of the Bradford Area, Inc. For more information on the carbon monoxide detector program or other safety initiatives, please call CARE at 814-362-4621.

Exchange Club Bowling Expo

CARE families, including Jake, age 14, and his little brother George, enjoyed the Exchange Club Bowling Expo at Bylle Lanes Bowling Center on Saturday, October 3rd.

For the last several years, the Bradford Exchange Club has hosted children who receive CARE therapy services and their family members to free bowling and dinner during the Expo. This year 14 children and 11 adults participated in the fun event.

In addition, the Expo supports the Exchange Club's child abuse prevention initiatives with funds supporting area organizations that provide programs for children who are impacted by child abuse and supports child abuse prevention programs.

Summer Programs focus on Early Learning and Therapeutic Recreation

This summer CARE for Children offered nine sessions of Early Learning Day Camp for 3, 4 and 5 year olds and nine sessions of developmental playgroup for toddlers ages 24 to 42 months old.

In addition, CARE increased the number of Summer Day Camp sessions for children with disabilities from four to nine days.

The Early Learning Camp focused on STEAM (science, technology, engineering, art and math) activities and many days were spent using the new playground at CARE as an outdoor classroom.

“Learning shouldn’t stop in the summer,” said Kimberly Engstrom, preschool director at CARE. “Children naturally love to explore and use their imaginations. The Summer Day Camp gives my staff the opportunity to offer fun and enriching activities that will be reinforced during the school year.”

Activities included using rain gutters as ramps, weather experiments, making nature collages with natural materials, making binoculars with toilet paper rolls and using them on walks through the neighborhood, and practicing making simple structures with cups and other materials.

Volunteer Martha Morris and her family built a raised bed in the playground and the children planted vegetable seeds and tended the plants as they grew. They were able to eat what they grew at snack times later on in the summer.

The Toddler Playgroup gave toddlers an introduction to an early learning environment. They were able to socialize with their peers, practice self-help skills and learn routines. The playgroup focused on language development and helped toddlers with the transition to a preschool program.

CARE’s Day Camp for school age children saw campers spending time at the Ashley Booth Griffin Center, the University of Pittsburgh Bradford Campus and at Pine Acres for a round of adaptive golf.

“Increasing the number of day camp sessions provided our staff a way to help participants work on skills learned in therapy throughout the school year,” said Ashley Carlson, MOT-OTR/L, CARE Pediatric Therapy Services Director. “Everyone has a great time at camp and the therapists and teachers enjoy interacting with the campers in a more informal setting.”

CARE staff themed each three week session, which were offered in June, July and August respectively, and activities included arts and crafts, gym activities, an outdoor obstacle course, cooking, adaptive golf at Pine Acres, hikes on the Pitt Trail, and swimming.

Bottom: Melanie Rendos, B.S., occupational therapy assistant, helps Carmine, age 15, show off his balancing skills as camp coordinator, Katlyn Hillard, M.Ed., also lends a hand.

BEST BABY PLAYGROUP

The Best Baby Playgroup is a free program geared for babies, toddlers, and parents and will be held the third Wednesday of the Month, October through May at the Bradford Area Public Library, Early Learning Center at 6pm. The program is funded by a United Way Community Impact Grant and will be staffed by CARE therapists and teachers who will lead a short activity and then parents will have time to socialize. For more information call CARE at 362-4621 or visit www.careforchildren.info/specialevents or CARE for Children, McKean County Facebook page.

Is Your Child a Picky Eater?

CARE Family Support Program - November 19th

CARE for Children's Family Support Program will host a program for parents of picky eaters on Thursday, November 19th, at 6pm at the Ashley Booth Griffin CARE for Children Center.

Registered/Licensed Dietitian, Mariann Kahle, Wellness Coordinator at Medicor Associates Inc., offers strategies on how parents can combat picky eating and how to introduce a balanced diet into a picky eater's life.

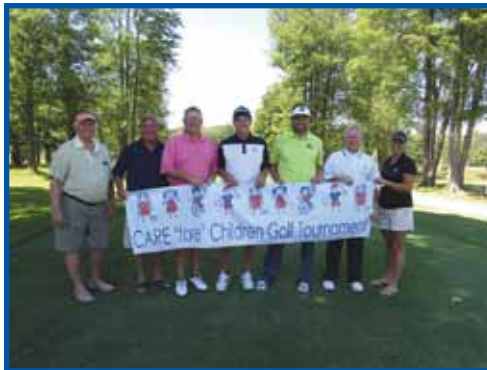

She will discuss common causes of picky eating and feeding issues, how nutrition impacts a child's growth, and explain how a child's diet can impact them throughout their lifetime.

The CARE occupational therapy staff will also be on hand to talk about sensory issues related to food that may be impacting a child's diet.

This program is free for parents and guardians. Advance registration is required by calling 814-362-4621 or by emailing Social Worker/Outreach Coordinator, Chris Gibble, LCSW, at chrisg@careforchildren.info.

Thanks for being a Trailblazer! CARE Annual Fund Surpasses $27,000 Goal

In April CARE started its second annual fund appeal to raise much needed funds for the organization.

This year's goal of $27,000 was ambitious, but thanks to the generosity of our donors the annual fund campaign has raised over $28,000 to date.

The appeal "Be A Trailblazer" focused on CARE's new therapeutic recreation program - "The Trailblazers", an intramural program that focused last year on soccer in the fall and tee ball in the spring. The program was started to give school-age children with disabilities the opportunity to be on a team with some of their friends.

In addition to the therapeutic recreation program, the annual fund also supports early learning programs and free community outreach programs for children, including 4th grade disability awareness, child safety and injury prevention, and social work and family support services.

Donors were also given the choice to support the playground project or the area of greatest need.

A complete list of CARE donors will be listed in CARE's 2014-2015 annual report (December 2015).
